the freedom journey

Grace in the wilderness

Many of us have experienced religion, but few of us have tasted and lived in the complete freedom of the Father's incredible love for us. The freedom journey, often through the wilderness, is a liberating one that will release us into a life of trust, thanksgiving, and rejoicing.

This event is for those who

- are hungry to experience the love of the Father rather than just know about it
- want to grow in freedom and intimacy in their relationship with God
- are in a time of transition, whether it be financial, relational, or in the physical
- are "dried-up" spiritually, or just tired
- have a sense for something more but don't know where to find it
- want passionate, biblical, life-related teaching that will bring transformation.

Peter Steicke

Leaving paid ministry as a profession in 2009 our conference presenter, Peter Steicke, soon found he was plummeted into the wilderness. Living neither where he used to, nor yet being where he was called to, he entered this in between time of transition. In retrospect, he sees he was in good company with Moses, the Israelites, David, Jesus, Paul, and many others. In addition, he realised this wilderness experience was going to be the most freeing time of transformation in his life. That's the freedom journey! Come and learn about the significance of grace in the wilderness for yourself! But also, leave better equipped to assist others in their journey through the wilderness to the life of freedom and opportunity the Father has for them.
